Circumnavigators Club Song

We're the Circumnavigators;
Men who know their way around;
We have box'd the whole earth's compass
And are back here safe and sound.
We're the Circumnavigators,
Hale and hearty, full of rum,
You can join this magic circle,
When you do as we have done.
Raise your glass to bold Magellan,
He was first to call the turn.
The great Father of our Order,
We embalm in Mem'ry's urn.
We care not for wealth or station,
Nor for rank, nor birth, or state,
But if you would join our circle,
You must Circumnavigate.
Here's health to all good fellows,
Be their gods just what they please,
Buddha, Jupiter or Wotan,
Turk, Parsee or Chinese.
So they pass our Board of Censors,
And that they be true and straight,
They can be, like us, immortals,
If they Circumnavigate.
